

[Conditions of Backbiting]

Dr. Abdus-Salaam as-Suhaymi ¹ mentions that Shaykh al-Islam Ibn Taymiyyah [d.728h] said, as he was explaining the permissibility of backbiting an innovator, that two conditions should be fulfilled before doing so:

[1] - Knowledge

[2] - Sincerity

Ibn Tamiyyah [d.728h] said, "A person who takes up the task of backbiting an innovator should have knowledge and sincerity. If a person takes part in backbiting an innovator, but at the same time he is seeking to raise his status in the eyes of the people, or he is seeking to cause corruption, it doesn't matter if he is speaking the truth, he is like a person who goes out to fight in a fit of rage, showing off.

On the other hand, if he backbites an innovator, sincerely for the sake of Allah, he is like the inheritors of the Prophets (the Scholars), the successors of the Messengers, [honorably] fighting in the path of Allah..." ²

Translated by:

Jameel Finch al-Makki

Mullaqqi'a, Makkah, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

8th Thul-Q'ada / October 27th, 2009

All Rights Reserved by: Embody Islam Translations and Publications ³

¹ Dr. Abdus-Salaam as-Suhaymee is a teacher in the Department of Fiqh at the Islamic University of al-Madinah.

² Taken from "Be Serious about your Salafiyyah", Dr. Abdus Salaam as-Suhaymee, pg. 77

³ No Part of this translation may be reprinted, reproduced or utilized without the permission of the translator, Jameel Finch al-Makki. Please send all comments and corrections to:

embodyislam215@gmail.com